Survival Skills

This course introduces philosophical understanding of living in the natural world, in its rhythms and seasonal cycles. Basic wilderness survival skills are learned, including making fire, building shelter, finding medicinal plants, hunting, and tracking. Materials fee. Prerequisite: ENV100. Required for ENV majors.

Course Number: ENV238
Unit: 3.0
Program: Environmental Studies