Leadership Skills Seminar

In this seminar, students study and gain hands-on experience in essential, traditional leadership skills. Theory and practical applications of conflict resolution, mediation, and other selected skills are presented. Students develop their understanding through case studies and research, and learn and apply these skills in the class. This course has been replaced by ENV725 and will not be offered in future catalog years. Required for EL MA.

Course Number: ENV705
Unit: 3.0
Program: Environmental Studies