Advanced Practicum in Psychological Research

An advanced examination using research methods that discover new knowledge about a topic drawn from psychology. Assignments may include literature search, study design, data collection, data entry, data analysis, and manuscript preparation. This course culminates in a public oral presentation. Topics vary by semester and section.

Course Number: PSYB495
Unit: 3.0
Program: Psych - BA Contemplative