

Group Counseling II: Transpersonal Wilderness Therapy

In the second semester, this yearlong course provides further theoretical and experiential understanding of group purpose, development, dynamics, counseling theories, approaches, methods, and skills. Studies include comparative models, evaluation methods, research, professional preparation, ethical and legal considerations, and applications for working creatively in outdoor and wilderness settings. Prerequisite: CNSW751. WT only.

Course Number: CNSW761

Unit: 3.0

Program: GRAD Transpersonal Coun