

Field Placement

Students engage in an approved community-based volunteer project. Lectures, dialog, guest speakers, and experiential activities support students in developing their own vision of socially relevant community-based learning that is culturally sensitive and nurtured by contemplative practice. Students hone previously learned skills in diversity and contemplative practice and apply these to real-world settings. Co-requisite: PSYB415.

Course Number: PSYB425

Unit: 3.0

Program: UNDG Contemplative Psych